Six Yolks In One
Regular Size Egg

Sonny L. Holland recently bought a dozen eggs at the Taylor Grocery. When his wife broke one of them yolks began pouring out and she counted six separate and distinct yolks. They were perfectly formed but quite small. The egg was average size and had the appearance of an ordinary egg of the leghorn variety. Double-yolk eggs, which are considerably larger than average and large at both ends, but this one was the usual shape.

The egg came from McKinnon Poultry Farm in Brantley and Mr. Holland brought it to town to show. Nobody who saw it claimed to ever have seen anything like it.

Move To New Home

Mr. and Mrs. Harold English and family have moved to their new home on the old Samson road. The home was built by the young farmers project about 18 years ago, the project being the first of its kind in the United States. It is a well built house with modern improvements added by the Englishes, and is a very attractive and convenient place to reside.

Record Beaten

The statement in last week's Clipper that Holland Harrison has served on the jury for the first time at fifty years of age has brought on several reactions. Mrs. Cleo Hawkins called attention to the fact that her grandfather, T. M. Bowdoin, 75 years of age, has been a prominent Democrat all his life and has never served on a jury. Probably there are a number of Coffee County citizens who have escaped jury duty for more years than Mr. Harrison.

Looks Up To Father

Mr. and Mrs. O. P. Davis of Montgomery, spent Sunday with their son, the Rev. Fred L. Davis and family. Mr. Davis is a rural mail carrier with 35 years service. He is acquainted with a number of mail carriers D. B. Perdue's relatives and the two riders had a pleasant visit together. Mr. Davis is six feet three and one-half inches tall and his son is five feet ten and one-half inches in height. The popular Methodist pastor has always looked up to his father.

Ground Hog Shadow

Wednesday was ground hog day and the sun shone brightly almost all day, the pesky varmint evidently saw his shadow. According to legend, he was supposed to hustle back into his winter quarters and we will have six weeks of winter weather. Loyal N. Phillips, sage of Goodman community says he has observed the weather for many years, and always when the ground hog sees his shadow on February 2nd we have six more weeks of bad weather.

A Clipper reporter took pains to ask a dozen or more Elba people if they had ever seen a ground hog in this section, and all of them answered in the negative for good reason. There are none here. There seems to be a mistaken idea among some people that a woodchuck is a ground hog. The ground hog is an animal that looks something like a possum and are quite numerous in parts of the United States, but not so here. So, although they might possibly know something about predicting weather in the places they live, it is hard to understand how they could know much about the weather in Alabama.

Mayor Mullins Attends REA Meet

Mayor L. P. Mullins joined an Alabama delegation in Montgomery Saturday morning and left by train for New York City to attend a national meeting of Rural Electric directors. Mr. Mullins expects to return home Friday and should have some interesting things to report.

The original name of Linden was Hohenlunde in honor of a smashing military defeat inflicted on the Austrians by French in 1800.

Vandals Wreck Mens Rest Room In Court House

$25 Reward Offered For Apprehension Of Culprit

Janitor E. D. Lee, Jr., reports that vandals entered the men's rest room in the Elba Courthouse Friday night and tore down the lavatory which had recently been installed. The room was flooded, water running out into the hall. The miscreants cut off a solid oak broom handle, whittled it off and drove it into the pipe to stop the flow of water. Mr. Lee says a reward of $25 will be paid for information leading to apprehension of the culprit. Such willful destruction of public property is a serious offense and it is hoped that the identity of the guilty party can be obtained. The men's rest room has only recently been renovated, remodeled and modernized. The lavatory being an added convenience. It is hard to understand why anybody would be mean enough to commit such wanton acts of vandalism, but it seems there are such persons at large in the community.

A public rest room with 24 hr. service is a great convenience to the community, but perhaps the only solution to the problem of preventing vandalism would be to lock up the courthouse at night.

Elba Boy Making Good As Policeman In Montgomery

Harry Farris Is Youngest Member Of City Force

Another Elba boy is making his mark in the big city. Harry Farris, son of Mr. and Mrs. Kay Farris, was the son of the following news story in the Montgomery Advertiser Sunday.

G. H. Farris came to Montgomery looking for a summer job. The job he got was a summer job but it also included fall, winter, and spring.

"He is member of the traffic division of the Montgomery police department and is currently working the second shift. Each month he rotates shifts. His duties are investigating accidents."

"Farris, 21, of 402 South Lawrence Street, is the youngest man on the force, and his rough too," he said. Nevertheless, he likes his work very much. "Outdoor work and working with people are its main attractions," he says.

He joined the force last summer and attended the special police school. He did pretty well at it, too. Police chief Carlisle Johnston said he came through with the highest grade—19.2.

Farris was born in Birmingham in 1927. At an early age he moved to Chicago and attended school there until he was in the second grade. He then moved to Elba, where he finished school.

In March, 1943, he joined the Navy, serving most of his time in the Philippines on a gasoline tanker.

After receiving his discharge in August, 1946, he attended the University of Alabama for two quarters. He went to Troy for a year before coming to Montgomery.

He says he plans on making a life career in police work. His favorite sports are tennis and swimming.

Farris said he had never investigated an accident where a person had been seriously injured. "I guess I have been lucky," he said.

The accident he remembers most was when a train hit a log truck and knocked it 100 feet. "They had to pull the train engine in," he said.

Hogs Chew Pocketbook But Man Gets Money Back

"Button" Grimes, farmer living west of Elba, lost his pocketbook containing $420 several months ago. He thought he lost it while planting oats, and made a thorough search, but to no avail. One day this week an Archie boy was plowing in a field where cattle and hogs had been fed, and the missing pocketbook with the money intact was turned up. Hogs had chewed it considerably and the bills were stuck together, and they were indistinguishable. Four $100 bills and a $20 bill were taken to the Elba Exchange Bank and president J. F. Brunson sent them to Atlanta for redemption.

A Clipper reporter phoned J. W. Grimes, Danley Cross Roads merchant, asking for information and he said that it was "Shirt Button" Grimes who lost the pocketbook. Mr. Grimes at Danley Cross Roads seems to be "Brithes Button" Grimes.

Watson, whose home is in Brewton, had been living with his aunt and her husband, a state employee. Young Watson disappeared after Mrs. Sowell was shot in the back of the head with a .22 rifle. He surrendered to officers at Brewton three days later. The boy admitted killing Mrs. Sowell when she remonstrated him for staying out of school.

Watson will be tried in circuit court during the week of March 28th. He is being held in jail without bond.

Mrs. Sowell, daughter of Mrs. Bama Donaldson, of Elba, was buried in Pine Level cemetery January 13, funeral services being held at Pine Level church.

A. J. Baxley Is New Sanitation Officer For Coffee County

Urges Citizens To Use Free Aid Offered By County

A. J. Baxley, who comes from Blue Springs, is Coffee County's new sanitation officer, succeeding Frank Boswell. Mr. Baxley resides in Enterprise, but spends half of his time in Elba with his headquarters at the local health office. He has had wide experience in health work, serving 3 years in the Army Medical corps.

Mr. Baxley said he finds that 6,220 standard pit privies, 600 septic tanks and 700 sewer connections are needed in the county and urges everyone in need of these health requisites to take advantage of the County Health Departments free facilities.

Mr. Baxley stated that he has found that 50 per cent of the Coffee County school children are infested with hookworms due to the lack of pit privies, septic tanks and sewer connections. He announces that free plans and specifications are obtainable at the county health office and he says he will give his services free in assisting anyone install these requirements.

Job Rolling Practice Sets Elba Families Packing

The old job-rolling days are largely a thing of the past, but job-rolling is quite active. W. Kay Farris, who sometime ago was a victim of this practice and in turn participated in the rolling, was in Elba Sunday and was talking about how uncertain a job-rolling struck Elba again recently and as a result Mrs. Masters rolled W. G. Morris at Enterprise; Morris' wife Jack Wise at Elba; Wise's wife a man at Brundidge, etc. etc. Morris is the new assistant agent at Elba.

March Of Dimes Drive Raises $1,178 As End Of Campaign Nears

One Week Is Added To End Successful Drive For Funds

Dozier Roberts, chairman of the March of Dimes in Coffee County reports that fine progress has been made in the campaign to raise funds for treatment of polio victims. Up to Thursday morning $1,178 had been reported with Elba, Zion Chapel, Goodman, Damascus, Curtis Bluff Springs, and Basin schools yet to be heard from. Several other sources of donations are expected to swell the final total.

On account of the inclement weather conditions prevailing the closing date of the campaign has been extended another week. Chairman Roberts is in hopes that this year's campaign will raise $1,500, about three times the amount contributed last year. Special thanks go to Supt. Mayo Prescott, of the Dorsey Trailers, and Supt. J. A. Triple of the L. & M. Manufacturing Co., both of whom did yeoman service. Anyone who still hasn't made their contribution and wishes to do so may mail a check to the Elba Exchange Bank or to Dozier Roberts, Elba.

A loving cup is to be awarded to the school making the largest donation.

School Boiler Moved To New Location

The Elba schools were dismissed Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday on account of the removal of the large boiler from the old location to the new gymnasium. The time for making the change proved to be inopportune, coming in the midst of the recent cold snap, but the new set-up is expected to be a great improvement over the old one and will give the whole school plant a modern, adequate heating system for all kinds of weather.

Everybody is invited to attend whether they wish to dance or not.

Circle Arrows Win From Red Level And Florala

Play Return Game With Red Level Here Monday

The Western Auto Circle Arrows lost a close contest to the strong STC Troy basketball team last Thursday night at the local gym by the score of 59 to 54. It was one of those nip and tuck affairs and was never decided until the final whistle blew.

The Troy cagers are lightning fast and gave a brilliant exhibition of ball handling, but the Arrows are also fast, especially on the defensive, and in some respects outplayed the collegians. The game was decided by the Troy hoopers ability to make free shots, which seems to be one of the Arrow weaknesses.

"Shorty" Ellard was "hot" and scored 25 points for Elba. All members of the Elba squad saw service and gave a good account of themselves. The Troy team boasts of several outstanding players and has won its last six games. The Arrows are to be congratulated for holding them on practically even terms.

The Arrows defeated the Red Level cagers at Red Level Monday night by a comfortable margin. The Arrows were handicapped by playing on a "handbox" court which is a marked contrast to the local court. A return game will be played with Red Level here Monday night.

The Arrows defeated a good independent basketball team from Florala here Wednesday night by a score of 57 to 41. Tex El Young was the big gun for the Arrows hitting the sack for 22 points. Only six Arrows participated, but all turned in a neat performance. The Florala team put up a good fight and kept the game interesting all the way.

The Murphree Co. Buys Grocery And Market Here

F. H. Murphree and son, Boyd, have purchased the Taylor Grocery and Market from Herschel Taylor, located next to the Western Auto Associate Store and have begun operation of the store. The younger Mr. Murphree will have charge of Elba and has a multitude of friends who are glad he has decided to engage in a business in Elba and make his home here.

The elder Mr. Murphree has been prominently identified with Elba business affairs for many years and will lend his knowledge and experience to the business.

The Messrs. Murphree announce that Joe Frank Prescott will continue in charge of the meat department. H. H. Hawkins will remain as salesman and Mr. Gus Devane will assist at the store on Saturdays and at rush time.

The Messrs. Murphree believe in the value of advertising and plan to publish price and specials from week to week.

Hundreds Visit New Ford Home On Opening Day

Although the weather was inclement Saturday, the formal opening of the Garrett Motor Co. was a huge success from every viewpoint. Approximately one thousand people visited the plant during the day.

Mrs. Gethel Pinckard and Mrs. Bill Martin presided at a large punchbowl, ably assisted by Miss Patsy Pinckard, Patsy Mullins and Eugenia Farmer. Upon entering the spacious beautifully decorated snowroom, the guests were served delicious punch and were greeted by the Garrett Motor Company personnel, assisted by Mrs. J. M. Garrett and Miss Geanette Garrett, who came from Birmingham to attend the auspicious affair.

The show room was beautifully decorated with a profusion of cut flowers, roses, carnations and other floral designs. Guests were courteously shown over the plant and made to feel welcome in real Garrett style.

The beautiful cypress paneling furnished by Windham Lumber Company and finished with some of Luke English's Sherwin-Williams Sain Clear varnish and floors finished with a Lindsay-Thomson job of Armstrong rubber tile, is a model of beauty. The whole plant is a workman's delight, constructed for convenience and utility.

Marylin, waving nonchalantly to Harold without looking back, drove off.

The things she craved to hear, now that they were alone.

Suddenly, the skies overhead were filled with clouds and like it often does, on a summer day, the storm broke in a few seconds. It simply poured.

"Close the window!" Jonathan cried excitedly, "I don't like to drive when it's raining." He looked terrified.

Marylin liked rain. She looked at Jonathan crouched in the corner of the car. He tested each time the thunder pealed or the lightning flashed. Suddenly the downpour subsided a bit and the windshield wiper stopped working. Marylin couldn't see through the window.

"Would you please wipe off the outside of the window?" she asked Jonathan.

He got out reluctantly. As he was wiping off the glass a sudden gust of wind encircled him and swept something right off his head. Marylin screamed. Even as he was chasing it and trying to retrieve it from one of the roadside bushes, Marylin didn't realize it was his wig!

He adjusted the wig back to his head and crawled back into the car, looking like a wet cat. How slowly he drove back into town, she scarcely knew, but she drove like mad.

She was heading toward Fitts' Sugar Bowl and she hoped Harold would be on deck to serve her a double-malt. And suddenly she remembered, that Harold simply loved storms!

Weather Here Breaks Heat Record As Nation Shivers

One of the most protracted January warm spells on record came to an end on Friday night. Saturday was quite cold and temperature slighted. Clearing skies brought a temperature rise Tuesday. Following such a long spell of abnormally warm weather, it was feared that a cold snap would seriously damage the coming fruit crop, but so far no material damage is apparent.

During the record-breaking January warm spell temperatures average from 10 to 20 degrees above normal with an accumulated excess of something like 350 degrees.

During a considerable portion of this time the northern and middle sections of the country have been experiencing some of the coldest weather and worst blizzards in years. The radio on Monday night stated that a greater percentage of the United States was under snow than for many years. Millions of cattle and sheep have either starved or frozen or are in danger of perishing. The government is making heroic efforts to relieve the dire situation by flying feed to them and is using every possible means to prevent what threatens to be the greatest livestock loss in the history of the Northwest.

Mary Hall, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Hall, was married to Edna Johnson in Troy on Monday. Their many friends will regret to learn that Mary's condition is considered serious.

Harold leaned over the open window and a look at Marylin like a sick cat.

"What time should I call for you Saturday, Tom's party, remember?"

"I've got a date," Marylin returned crisply, and her hand was waiting to shift gears impatiently.

"Oh, yeah?" Harold fared angrily. "I suppose you're going out with that . . . horse breeder?"

"He's a dope and old enough to be your father," Harold pointed out seriously. Then in a softer tone he continued:

"Harold, Fitz!" Marylin cried, her cheeks flaming. "If you're referring to Jonathan Benton, he's the best riding master in the country!"

Weather Here Breaks Heat Record As Nation Shivers

One of the most protracted January warm spells on record came to an end on Friday night. Saturday was quite cold and temperature slighted. Clearing skies brought a temperature rise Tuesday. Following such a long spell of abnormally warm weather, it was feared that a cold snap would seriously damage the coming fruit crop, but so far no material damage is apparent.

During the record-breaking January warm spell temperatures average from 10 to 20 degrees above normal with an accumulated excess of something like 350 degrees.

During a considerable portion of this time the northern and middle sections of the country have been experiencing some of the coldest weather and worst blizzards in years. The radio on Monday night stated that a greater percentage of the United States was under snow than for many years. Millions of cattle and sheep have either starved or frozen or are in danger of perishing. The government is making heroic efforts to relieve the dire situation by flying feed to them and is using every possible means to prevent what threatens to be the greatest livestock loss in the history of the Northwest.

Mary Hall, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Hall, was married to Edna Johnson in Troy on Monday. Their many friends will regret to learn that Mary's condition is considered serious.

Band Members Enjoy Trip To Camp Hill

Band director Almon Strain chartered a large Trailways bus Sunday morning for the Elba Band, along with several parents of the members went to Auburn, where they spent more than an hour making a tour of the campus. All were impressed with the magnitude of A.P.I.

From Auburn the party went to Camp Hill, where an inspection of the Boys Industrial school was made and the band gave a concert in the afternoon.

The Camp Hill school is for boys who are underprivileged and are not able to attend other schools. The boys are allowed to work their way through school. The course includes the sixth through the twelfth grades. A dairy, garden, livestock and other necessary sources of supplies go to make the school largely self-supporting.

The Elbians report that they were favorably impressed with the way the school is conducted, and the students seem to be happy and contented and making good progress. An enjoyable trip was reported.

Disappointed!—A great deal about his little cousin Peter, but had never met him. So when he heard Peter was coming to his house for a visit, the youngster was overjoyed.

But when his cousin arrived, he took one look at him and burst into tears. "I thought," he wailed, "that Peter was a rabbit!"

be too weak to compete with the healthy trees. Resisting insects, insect infestation or wind thrown trees is especially important since they are a hazard to healthy trees. Cutting crooked and poorly formed or over topped trees is just good farming and doesn't take away a mill man or a forester to tell that one of these trees will not make a good saw log. Not all poorly formed trees are small. Some are limby wolf trees some times left over from previous cuttings. In most cases the tree holds back a fine stand of young trees and the sooner you cut it the better.

However, in some cases a wolf tree make a good seed tree. Many pine plots in the county are too thick and would do much better if thinned out. Trees that do not have the makings of saw logs can very often be treated and make good fence posts. Improper thinning may ruin a good stand of young pines. It is advisable to get in touch with your district forester or project forester for advice. If you desire I will be glad to help you get in touch with them.

Progress Of Miss. Negro Is Story Worth Telling

The following editorial from the Tupelo (Miss.) Journal was reproduced in the Gulf Breeze, official organ of the Production Credit Corporation, of which Jesse B. Hearn is president.)

Their story too is worth telling. Southern Senators and governors are working on a publicity campaign to convince the rest of the nation that the South is not quite as bad as some of our Northern critics contend.

Exactly how the information regarding Dixie's progress will be presented hasn't been decided. But somewhere in the program should be a word of praise for our Negroes, themselves, who during the 85 years since they gained their freedom have made greater progress than any other people in history in a comparative period of time.

Compare, for example, the achievements of Mississippi Negroes since 1863 with those of the people of Russia since they were freed from serfdom two years later. When the Russian Czar released that country's peasants from bondage he gave all of them a portion of land they had been working. Mississippi Negroes, by contrast, not only were given no land when freed, but were actually barred by state law from renting any.

Yet today the one million Negroes in Mississippi own more farms and business firms than all the 180 million Russians combined. Only a few years ago Mississippi Negroes owned more automobiles than all the people in Russia. And on the basis of the best estimates available, they still own more modern conveniences like washing machines and refrigerators than the Soviet Union entire population of 180 millions people.

The South has long been the butt of the Northern finger-pointing. And it's good to see our senators and governors launch a campaign to tell the world of our achievements.

But just as the South has always been blamed with most of what's wrong with America, so has the South, in turn, blamed the Negro for its own shortcomings.

And it's just possible that the Mississippi Negroes are as hungry for a word of praise from their white neighbors, as is the rest of the South to appear in a light more favorable in the East and North.

Thus while our leaders are trying to offset Yankee criticism with the story of Dixie progress, they might as well mention that southern Negroes are moving steadily up the economic ladder in spite of tremendous obstacles. Consider for a moment these brief facts:

The grandfather of the typical Negro worker of today was a slave. He owned nothing. When he was freed just 85 years ago, he carried nothing with him into freedom—no land, no house, not even a plow or mule.

He started from scratch. And there was no land available for him at fifty cents an acre such as had awaited the white settlers of our state.

Without education, land or tools 85 years ago, the Negroes of Mississippi today own farms, run stores, drive automobiles and enjoy radios and other modern conveniences. It is true they have not caught up with the white residents in any of these categories. But neither have Mississippi white citizens caught up with the rest of the citizens in other parts of the nation after the state was left in ruin by the Civil War and reconstruction.

At the time of the last census 24,000 Negro families in Mississippi owned farms of their own. Another 23,000 owned homes in town. And today, both figures are considerably higher.

During the last 15 years according to the Southern Regional Council, 27 per cent of the South's Negro share-croppers have lifted themselves by their boot straps into farm ownership.

Thus while the peasants of Russia have lost every acre of land given them at the time of their freedom the same Negroes of Mississippi have during the same period risen from a landless class to a position where one family out of every four owns its own home or farm.

The magnitude of this progress becomes clearer when it is remembered that few more than half the white families of Mississippi are property owners.

While our political leaders are shaping their publicity campaign outlining Southern progress, therefore, it would be worth their while to emphasize such statements as the following by Dr. H. H. Humes, editor of the Negro newspaper, The Delta Leader:

"The writer has taken observation in recent months of the advancement and thriftiness of Negro people in the state of Mississippi as compared with those in northern and even southern states.

"Negro people in Mississippi own and operate independently more farms than in any other state in America. When you compare the ability of the Negro people of our state with that of others economically, they are a long way from being at the foot of the economic ladder."

Son Outsmarts Dad

WALTER was the proud owner of a black mongrel, which was named to the rest of the household. But Walter was so devoted to the dog, that he could not be prevailed to part with it. At last Walter's father made him an offer. "Boy," he said, "I'll give you $10 if you'll get rid of that dog." The following morning Walter came to him and told him that the mongrel had gone. "That's excellent news," said his father. "Here's the money. How did you get rid of him?" Walter smiled as he pocketed the money. "I swapped him with Reggie Jones for two black puppies."

Shopper's Battle

The tall, dignified man joined the crowd in front of a bargain counter, in an attempt to get a very special offer of hose for his wife. He inched his way patiently, but was buffeted here and there by the women, and made no progress. Suddenly he lowered his head, stretched out his arms, and barged through the crowd. "Can't you act like a gentleman?" inquired a cold feminine voice at his elbow. "I've been acting like a gentleman and made no progress," replied the man, still charging forward. "From now on, I'm going to act like a lady!"

Dogs Don't Vote

One day when he was a senator, former Secretary of State James F. Byrnes was listening to a colleague who was delivering a long winded address on the plight of the nation's dogs. Dog food, wailed the senator, was being sold for human consumption, creating a food shortage for the canine population. When the senator had concluded his eloquent address, a friend asked Byrnes, "What did you think of his speech?" "Not bad," replied Byrnes. "What a pity that dogs don't vote."
